Alexandria Gazette.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 10, 1909

Her Lockout. said a business woman who "keeps bach" in a cunning little apartment. "Last week I invited two friends for luncheon. As I have just an hour at noon I got everything ready before I left in the morning that could be prepared and set on the ice. I made a lovely salad, a dessert, prepared for toasted muffins and tea and set my table in all its glory, even buying some flowers for a centerpiece. My guests met me at the office and we went to the apartment. What do you think I had done? Left my keys inside and locked the door!

"There was absolutely no way for us to get in. The janitor had a pass key, but he was away. All the windows on the fire escapes were locked, and no other key in the building fitted. There was nothing to do but take my guests to a restaurant. Then I found that I had not even brought my purse from the office, never dreaming that I should need it. I had to ask my guests for money to pay for the luncheon, and, as it happened, they only had a quarter each above their carfare. We went to the cheapest place we could find and had sandwiches and coffee. Wasn't that funpy?" - Philadelphia

Accommodating.

"Some years ago," says a Boston lawyer, "a man in Nantucket was tried for a petty offense and sentenced to four months in jall. A few days after the trial the judge who had imposed sentence, in company with the sheriff, was on his way to the Boston boat, when they passed a man busily engaged in sawing wood.

"The man stopped his work, touched his hat politely and said, 'Good morning, your honor.'
"The judge, after a careful survey of the man's face, asked:

"'Isn't that the man I sentenced to jail a few days ago? "'Yes,' replied the sheriff, with some hesitation, 'that's the man. The fact is, judge, we-er-we don't happen to have anybody else in jail just now, so we thought it would be a sort of use-less expense to hire some one to keep the jail four months just for this one man. So I gave him the jall key and told him it would be all right if he'd sleep there o' nights."—Harper's Weekly.

A drunken carter came into a car-ringe of the Greenock train and sat opposite a clergyman who was reada little while leaned forward and in a maudlin way remarked, "I don't be lieve there's ony heaven."

The clergyman paid no heed. "Do ye hear me?" persisted the arter. "I don't believe there's ony carter.

Still the clergyman remained silent behind his newspaper.

The carter, shouting his confession

this time loudly, said, "I tell ye to your face, and you're a minister, that I don't believe there's ony heaven." "Very well," said the clergyman, "If you do not believe there is a heaven go elsewhere, but please go quietly."-

"Yes, of course she is," said the girl. "Well," was the rejoinder, with an expressive shake of the head, "lots of our customers ain't."

His Plausible Excuse.

Magistrate-This affair looks to me more like a common dog fight than a case of assault and battery. You claim that this man assaulted you and that you did not even try to defend yourself, yet he bears the marks of your teeth in three places. How do you account for that?

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the DEWEY ORE REDUCTION CORPORATION will be held at the office of said company, No.107 north Fairfax atreet, Alexandria, Va., on the 8th day of November, 1909, at 2 p. m. for the election of officers and such other business as shall come before the meeting.

East Indian Proverbs.

An old English proverb: "Cut your coat according to your cloth." The following is a similar proverb in India: "Look at your bed before stretch ing your legs on it." "Don't ask for sauce in a free boarding house," is another Indian proverb which is something like the English proverb, "Beg-gars must not be choosers."

WM R. LITTLE. Worn Women

Women, worn and tired from overwork, need a tonic. That feeling of weakness or helplessness will not leave you of itself. You should take Wine of Cardui, that effectual remedy for the ailments and weaknesses of women. Thousands of women have tried Cardui and write enthusiastically of the great benefit it has been to them. Try it—don't experiment—use this reliable, oft-tried medicine.

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Rena Hare, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterward wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side and legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. "I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well." Try Cardui. 'Twill help you.
